Summary of Experience

Graham Stirk joined Rogers Stirk Harbour + Partners when it was Richard Rogers Partnership in 1983 and was made a Senior Director in 1995. He has been involved in the design of a number of prestigious UK projects as well as projects worldwide - in Japan, the USA, France, Italy, Spain, Germany and Ireland.

Graham is currently Design Director of several major projects including: an extension for The British Museum to provide a special exhibitions suite, a scientific and conservation department, additional long term collection storage as well as an object handling hub; a new residential development in Knightsbridge, which will become one of the most luxurious apartment blocks in the capital; a new residential scheme close to the Tate Bankside consisting of 229 apartments, and a new winery in Spain. Graham is crucially involved in these projects from concept design stage through to the built scheme.

Graham has contributed to the design of several key masterplanning projects including Potsdamer Platz, Berlin and Paddington Basin, London and has been Director in Charge of two major London office schemes – Lloyds Register of Shipping and 88 Wood Street.
